

Our Commitment to Sustainability

Cutch is a small, local business committed to making and delivering candles and experiences in a sustainable and socially responsible way. We have a very small footprint, working from a workshop in the village where we live. As we grow, we will encounter challenges, but we always strive to ensure that our impact on the environment is as minimal and positive as possible. Here's our daily tick list of actions taken to ensure that we - and you - are happy with the way we create our products.

- Production of all our products and printing of all packaging within a one-hour drive time of our Cheshire workshop.
- Use of renewable, natural soy wax in all candles.
- Renewable, sustainably sourced FSC certified paper and cardboard in all packaging and entirely recyclable cellophane where used.
- 100% recyclable candle vessels
- 100% recyclable internet boxes
- Ever reducing weights and excess materials including the use of shredded paper rather than plastic peanuts for packaging
- Partnerships with local, responsible suppliers that have positive CSR and employment policies.
